Built from curiosity

Earth Spas was founded by Darren Waters, owner of Spa Parts Vortex, Europe's largest hot tub parts distributor.

Darren began his career as a hot tub engineer, giving him first-hand experience of what makes a spa enjoyable to own, reliable to maintain and built to last. Years spent working with thousands of spas, parts and repairs shaped a clear vision for something better.

In 2019, Earth Spas was born. Designed with intention, engineered for performance and built around the realities of long-term ownership, every model reflects the experience gained from decades in the industry.

Unlike any other hot tub manufacturer, Earth Spas is backed by Europe's largest hot tub parts distributor. Every Earth Spa component is stocked in our UK and EU warehouses, ready for next-day delivery.

It means dealers can source parts quickly and owners can enjoy complete peace of mind, knowing support is always close at hand.
